The following issues will be considered in a SFI eligibility check that will be conducted on any proposals with researchers from host institutions in Ireland:

The investigator(s) from Ireland must be from a recognized host institution

The investigator must hold and PhD, MD or equivalent

The PI named on the award must hold a post (permanent or a contract that covers the duration of the award) in a recognised research institution in the Republic of Ireland (the “Host Institution”) as an independent investigator, or is a contract researcher recognised by the Host institution as an independent investigator who will have a dedicated office and research space for the duration of award, for which he/she will be fully responsible, or is an individual who will be recognised by the Host Institution upon receipt of the award as a contract researcher as defined above. The Principal Investigator does not necessarily need to be employed by the Host Institution at the time of the application submission.

The PI has demonstrated research independence through securing at least one peer-reviewed, independent research grant as a Principal Investigator or as Co-Investigator and is a senior author (first, last or corresponding or in those fields where alphabetic order authorship is the norm, joint author) in peer-reviewed scientific journals.

The PI is not requesting their own salary

Any named co-applicants are not requesting their own salary

The Irish component of the budget for the project does not exceed €500k (including overheads)

Only eligible costs have been included:

- Salary-related costs
- Small equipment costs
- Travel
- Direct running costs
- Dissemination and knowledge exchange costs
- Overheads.
