

Several provinces (financially) support the development of integrated care for persons with dementia. This complements the national policy to establish integrated care (part of the plan 'caring for people with dementia). As a spin off the patients' organisation started the development of a integrated standard for dementia care, covering cure, long term care en social care. This development is funded by the government.

<https://www.neurodegenerationresearch.eu/survey/several-provinces-financially-support-the-development-of-integrated-care-for-persons-with-dementia-this-complements-the-national-policy-to-establish-integrated-care-part-of-the-plan-caring-for-pe/>

Briefly, is there anything else about your national or regional policies that you would like to explain or tell us about that is already captured? For example, if both exist, does the regional policy add to or complement the national policy?

Several provinces (financially) support the development of integrated care for persons with dementia. This complements the national policy to establish integrated care (part of the plan 'caring for people with dementia). As a spin off the patients' organisation started the development of a integrated standard for dementia care, covering cure, long term care en social care. This development is funded by the government.